Objection on the grounds of the exacerbation of excessive drinking, drunken and antisocial behaviour. Any extension to the Licensable hours would be detrimental to local residents, including their health & wellbeing. Residents in this area suffer late night noise nuisance and antisocial behaviour from this establishment, by successive landlords by the repeated disregard of their existing licence. We have had to endure own windows vibrating to the 'boom' of bass music. Their recent listed building application makes no mention soundproofing/air conditioning to rectify this. The public house resides in a densely populated area, and due to its specific location results in any noise being exacerbated by the surrounding buildings, becoming amplified & traveling down the road, thus affecting those not on only in the direct opposite, but significantly to those in Church St, Mint St, Mill Lane and Station Rd. In view of the above, I would urge the Licensing Authority to refuse the application.

This pub is next to a residential area. It is already very very loud when music is playing. There are also often drunks shouting outside. I can hear both from my house with the windows shut. To extend the evening opening times and allow music even later will have a material detrimental impact on neighbours.

I object to these proposals for extended hours - this is a residential area and the increase in opening hours will result in even more late noise and anti social behaviour in the vicinity and the general High Street area which cost the council tax payer in terms of clear up bills.

We object on grounds of too long hours and potential noise levels . This is a previous site for public disorder

We object to the license application for the provision of external speakers in the garden. Periodic monitoring and observations for 'noise breakouts' and 'nuisance to neighbours' by staff is an unsatisfactory solution to noise pollution up until the proposed hours of midnight Mon-Thurs and 1am Fri/Sat in a residential area. We also object to the extension of the hours of live and recorded music by one hour on both week and weekend evenings. Music from The Red Lion has been very audible in the past and the extension of time beyond the existing license seems excessive and unnecessary considering the amount of residents it effects.

I would like to object on the grounds of the exacerbation of excessive drinking, drunken and antisocial behaviour, with this pub's history, any extension to the Licensable hours would be detrimental to local residents on many fronts. We have really suffered extremely late night noise nuisance and antisocial behaviour from this pub, even when new owners have taken over in the past. They regularly blast loud music that spoils the entire centre of Godalming and due to the heat in the pub they keep all the doors at the back open until the wee hours of the morning with absolutely no regard to the neighbours. Their application doesn't mention any soundproofing to stop this from happening again. The problem is they are in the middle of a residential area, with many neighbours and due to their location (multiple story buildings all round) the noise simply has nowhere to escape, a fact they have simply ignored in the past on multiple occasions. I sincerely urge you to refuse the application.

My wife and I completely object to every aspect of this application for extended hours for food drink and music, mostly for reasons of the noise. This is an increasingly residential area and there is never any police presents at closing time to deal with the marauding drunks roaming the streets unable to get home as there are no trains or taxis, and then there is the carnage of fast food containers and food in the streets in the mornings. No thank you.

There are already frequent issues arising as a result of the numerous pubs in this densely populated area, including frequent fights, loud noise and mess in the streets due to people drinking excessively. There are a number of elderly people and young families living nearby who would be substantially affected if these extended opening hours are granted. We object strongly.

I object on the grounds of the exacerbation of excessive drinking, drunken and antisocial behaviour. As a resident I have suffered late night noise nuisance and antisocial behaviour from this establishment and its successive landlords and their blatant disregard of the licensing laws. I have had to endure loud music as well as raucous singing and arguing as the doors close and people make way to their cars. The listed building application makes no mention of soundproofing or other measures to rectify the very loud music. Any extension to licensing hours would be detrimental to my health and safety. This public house stands in a populated residential area and due to its location, any excessive noise is exacerbated by the surrounding buildings. In view of the above, I urge the Licensing Authority to refuse this application.

I have made complaints related to the Red Lion's late music licence on previous occasions, due to them exceeding their permitted hours and excessive volume. I would have made more complaints, however the ineptitude of the authorities to have any effect on the situation lead me to give up. Specifically my family's complaints are: The noise is excessive. Our bedrooms are at the same level as the pub, directly opposite. My children are 9 and 5 years old and have regularly had their sleep disrupted by live and recorded music events. The noise level in our bedrooms is like that of a stereo on in the room itself. If watching TV the volume has to be turned up significantly to enable watching. The excessive noise is substantially confounded by the use of the rear doors that access the garden by smokers and on warmer nights where they are propped open, presumably for ventilation. It is then as if the musicians themselves are in our bedrooms!

The smokers in the garden often have loud, aggressive conversations involving foul language. These spill out into the Mint Street car park after closing time, often resulting in loud abusive shouting, and there have also been occurrences of damage to parked vehicles and physical assaults. My family and I strongly oppose the extension of the Red Lion's licence. It is not appropriate in a residential part of the town to have late night live music events. We have learned to tolerate the current licence timings, and often resort to taking the children to Grandparents houses on Friday/Saturday nights so that they can get appropriate amounts of sleep. An extension of these hours would be wholly irresponsible on the part of Councillors, and a gross misrepresentation of their constituents' desires and requirements.

I understand that under the Licensing Laws the abovenamed is applying for an extended hours licence. I wish to object to this as a local resident as already 'yobbish, drunken behaviour' from the licence premises in Godalming Town is already more than enough to be accepted by locals.....and that extended hours to any licence premises can only exacerbate the problem.
